

Inner Revolutionary Men Present

Men Under Siege

A Healing Approach to the New Attitudes toward Common Male Sexual Behaviors

Sunday, January 21, 10am – 1pm Pacific Time

A Half-Day Retreat for Men and Women: In Person in San Diego or via Videoconference from Anywhere

Today, men are being held accountable for behaviors that are and have long been common. It seems that all of a sudden, sexual harassment, aggression and sexual exploitation of women and children are no longer acceptable at work or anywhere else. Using pornography and sexting have consequences. From date rape to whistling, the gamut of fairly common male sexual behaviors is now being punished or questioned. (And, by the way, these kinds of behaviors in women are also having consequences, especially in the workplace.)

- Who changed the rules and when?
- How does it feel for us to suddenly be seen as bad, when we're following a norm in our culture?

We at Inner Revolutionary Men do not pretend that these behaviors are rare. We admit they are NOT rare but have been accepted as part of the culture. And we welcome this new conversation and this new attitude. We don't believe that it is healthy or natural for men to objectify women or to use our power against them. Nor do we believe that women should use their sexuality against us. It's about time all these worms came to the surface.

Join us for an honest discussion of:

- Sexual behaviors in both men and women that we have been conditioned to see as normal but which are not loving or respectful.
- Painful sexual experiences that we have been subjected to as well.
- The path forward.

Is it possible to have healthy and loving sexual interactions throughout our lives? What needs to happen to facilitate that? What part can we play? Join us!

This retreat will be held at a beautiful home in North County San Diego and online via internet videoconferencing. The cost of the retreat is $145, but we are inviting women to attend free of charge. If you're a woman or identify as a woman, just enter the code "Free" when registering. We'd like you to come and participate in this important discussion.
